Student Council Governs School

This year, the most important project of Student Council, led by Head Girl Beth Chadwick and Head Boy Robert Beebe, was to revise the school Constitution. They submitted the proposal for revision to the student body in October and received overwhelming approval. The Council worked long and hard on proposed changes. The student body defeated by a narrow margin the first revised constitution. A second revision, undertaken and put to a vote in April, passed.

In the course of their regular activities, the Council planned and carried out all aspects of the Homecoming activities in October. They organized a party for sophomores and new students in the early fall and they presented the foreign students with complimentary tickets to all school plays and games.

A free dance sponsored by Council was held on April 17, and during the year, all school trophies were brought up to date. The Council participated in Northern Conference Student Council meetings and sent delegates to the State Student Council.

A record board with a walnut frame and glass cover was Student Council's gift to the school this year.

Triangle Club is composed of club presidents, editors of the newspaper and the year-book, and class presidents. This year Gary Moschetti served as president and Carol Evans as secretary. In the fall, the club prepares the year's calendar for meetings of all clubs. In addition, the club meets every other week to choose the Panther of the Week. Members whose pictures appear are those who have attended at least two thirds of the club's meetings.

Girls' and Boys' States Afford

Colleen Williams, Mary Kuykendall, Tena Burnett.

This year Boulder High had three representatives at Girls' State. Tena Burnett, Colleen Williams, and Mary Kuykendall were selected by the American Legion Auxiliary on the basis of their letters on "Why I Would Like to Attend Girls' State" and their speeches. They were chosen for their outstanding qualities in poise, personality, appearance, and content of speech. Sharon Swingle, Marge McKenna, and Carol Evans were alternates.

Girls' State was held from June 13 to June 19, 1963, at Colorado Women's College in Denver. Upon their arrival, the girls were assigned to three of the six cities and one of the two political parties, Nationalists and Federalists.

Girls' State is designed to give high school students actual working experience in democratic government on the city, county, and state levels. Colleen was chosen city clerk; Tena, county assessor; and Mary ran for the Board of Regents on the state level.

The high point of the experience was Legislation Day when all the girls traveled to the state capitol where they took over the work of the state legislature.

Experience in the Democratic Process

Thirteen boys represented Boulder High at Boys' State which was held on the University of Colorado campus from June 14-21, 1963. The boys were assigned to a city and either of the two political parties, the Nationalists and the Federalists.

To gain experience in the processes of democratic government, the boys attended lectures, visited the state capitol, and participated in city, county, and state elections. Most Boulder representatives were elected to offices on each level. The most outstanding nominations were those of Robert Beebe and Dick Nichols for Governor and Lt. Governor.

In order to attend Boys' State, the boys were first recommended by their American history teachers, and then selected on the basis of speeches made before the American Legion.

School Days

School Days

After a three-month summer vacation, students returned to Boulder High School on September 3. Seniors looked forward to a big year as the school leaders; juniors were happy to be back as established, experienced members of the student body; while sophomores were excited at having achieved high school status.

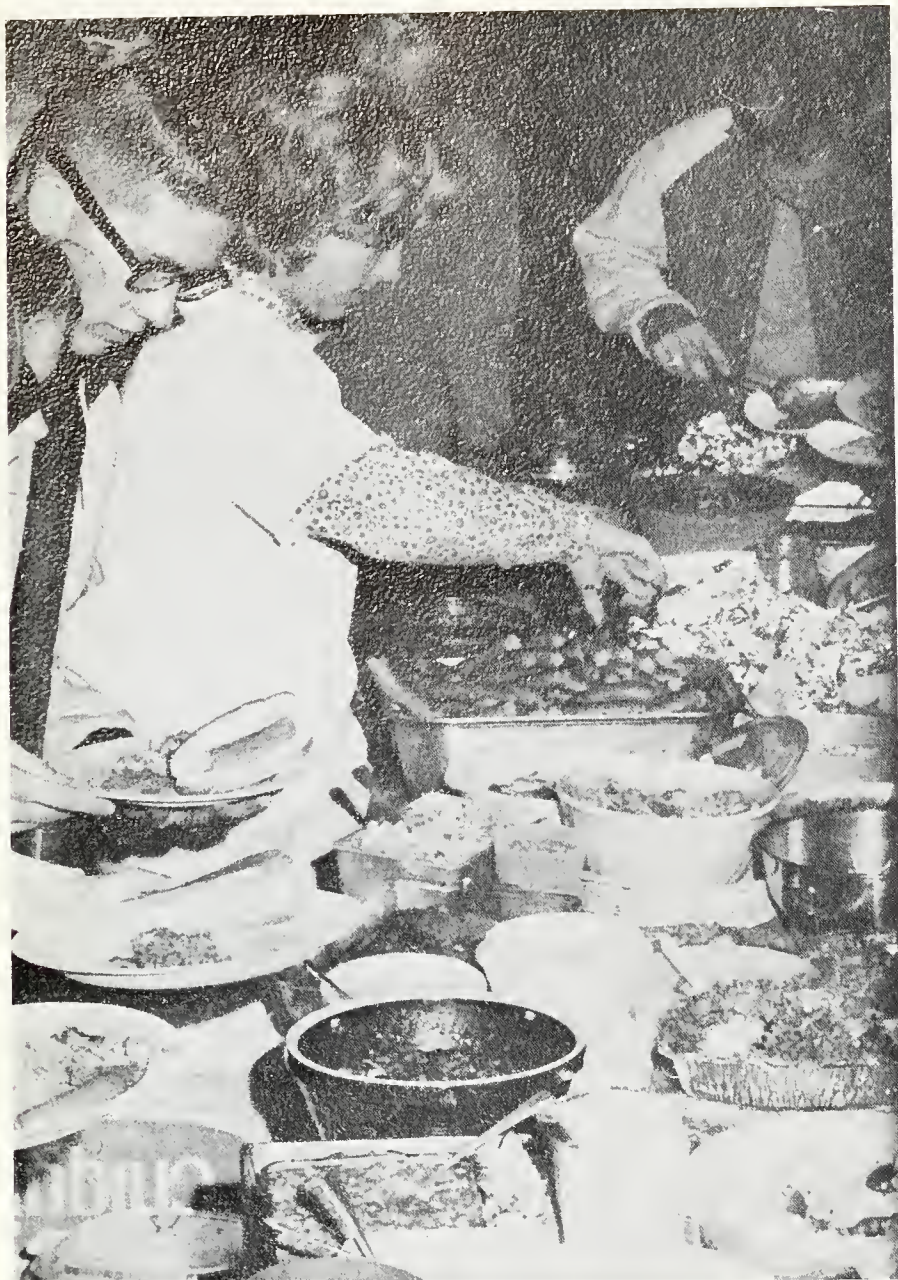

Onies and new teachers became official members of BHS when they assembled before the school on September 6 and bowed down to Minnie and Jake. These two statues on the front of Boulder High School symbolize wisdom and strength. The year gained momentum with class elections on September 5 and the first football game on September 7.

Swingin' Seniors Romp At Fry

On Monday evening, October 14, Boulder's senior class held its annual Fry at Chautauqua. With each Quad bringing a main dish, salad, or dessert, there was more than enough food. However, since almost everyone forgot his silverware, Sharon Dillon arrived late with the plates and no one could find out how to turn on the lights, the whole class had to resort to rather primitive eating methods. Finally full, some of the more adventurous seniors undertook a moonlight hike before returning home.

Juniors Present "The Thread That Runs So True"

The Junior Class Play, "The Thread That Runs So True," was presented on November 7 in the auditorium. The story involves the attempt of a young teacher, Jesse Stuart, played by Bob Kaiser, to establish his authority in a difficult rural school even though he himself has had only 3 years of high school education and is little older than his pupils. During the play, a romance develops between the teacher and his one promising student, Naomi Deane Norris, played by Anne Sandoe.

Homecoming Activities

Spark Spirit

October 10-12

Following tradition, Boulder High School's 1963 Homecoming was a 3-day celebration. Thursday evening, Coach Wilson started things off with a snap, crackle, and pop when he lit the huge bonfire west of the football field. Following an enthusiastic pep rally led by the cheerleaders, the crowd continued the celebration with an informal outdoor dance on the parking lot.

The next evening, Boulder's football team, on its way to the state crown, met and defeated Sterling on the BHS football field with a score of 47-9. During the half time with colorful ceremony, Pam Koenig, escorted by Bruce James, was crowned Homecoming Queen By Head Boy Robert Beebe.

On Saturday, the final night, the Homecoming Dance climaxed the festivities. The decorations carried out this year's theme, "Shades of Autumn." While The Bards played in the girls' gym, refreshments were served and pictures were taken in the boys' gym. When the dance ended, one of Boulder High's most successful Homecomings was concluded.

Attendants

Senior Pam Koenig was elected by the varsity football team to be Boulder's 1963 Homecoming Queen. Her attendants, who had also been nominated by the team members were Mary Jane Christman, Barbara Gondrezick, Jackie Hilsenbeck, and Pam Tiedeman. After having been crowned at the football game Friday night, Pam, escorted by Dick Anderson, co-captain of the football team, reigned over the Homecoming Dance the following evening.

A large wagon wheel stood in the center of the dance floor. Trees, leaves, pumpkins and hay decorated the walls. Dance favors were placed on a large football inscribed with "Homecoming '63."

St. Nick's Day ushered in Christmas vacation on December 20 in the traditional way with the Concert Choir caroling through the halls and around the Christmas tree in the main hall.

The singing of the Concert Choir, under the direction of Mrs. Eva Musil, entertained the student body in the auditorium. The featured speaker, Mr. James Sandoe, interpreted two readings.

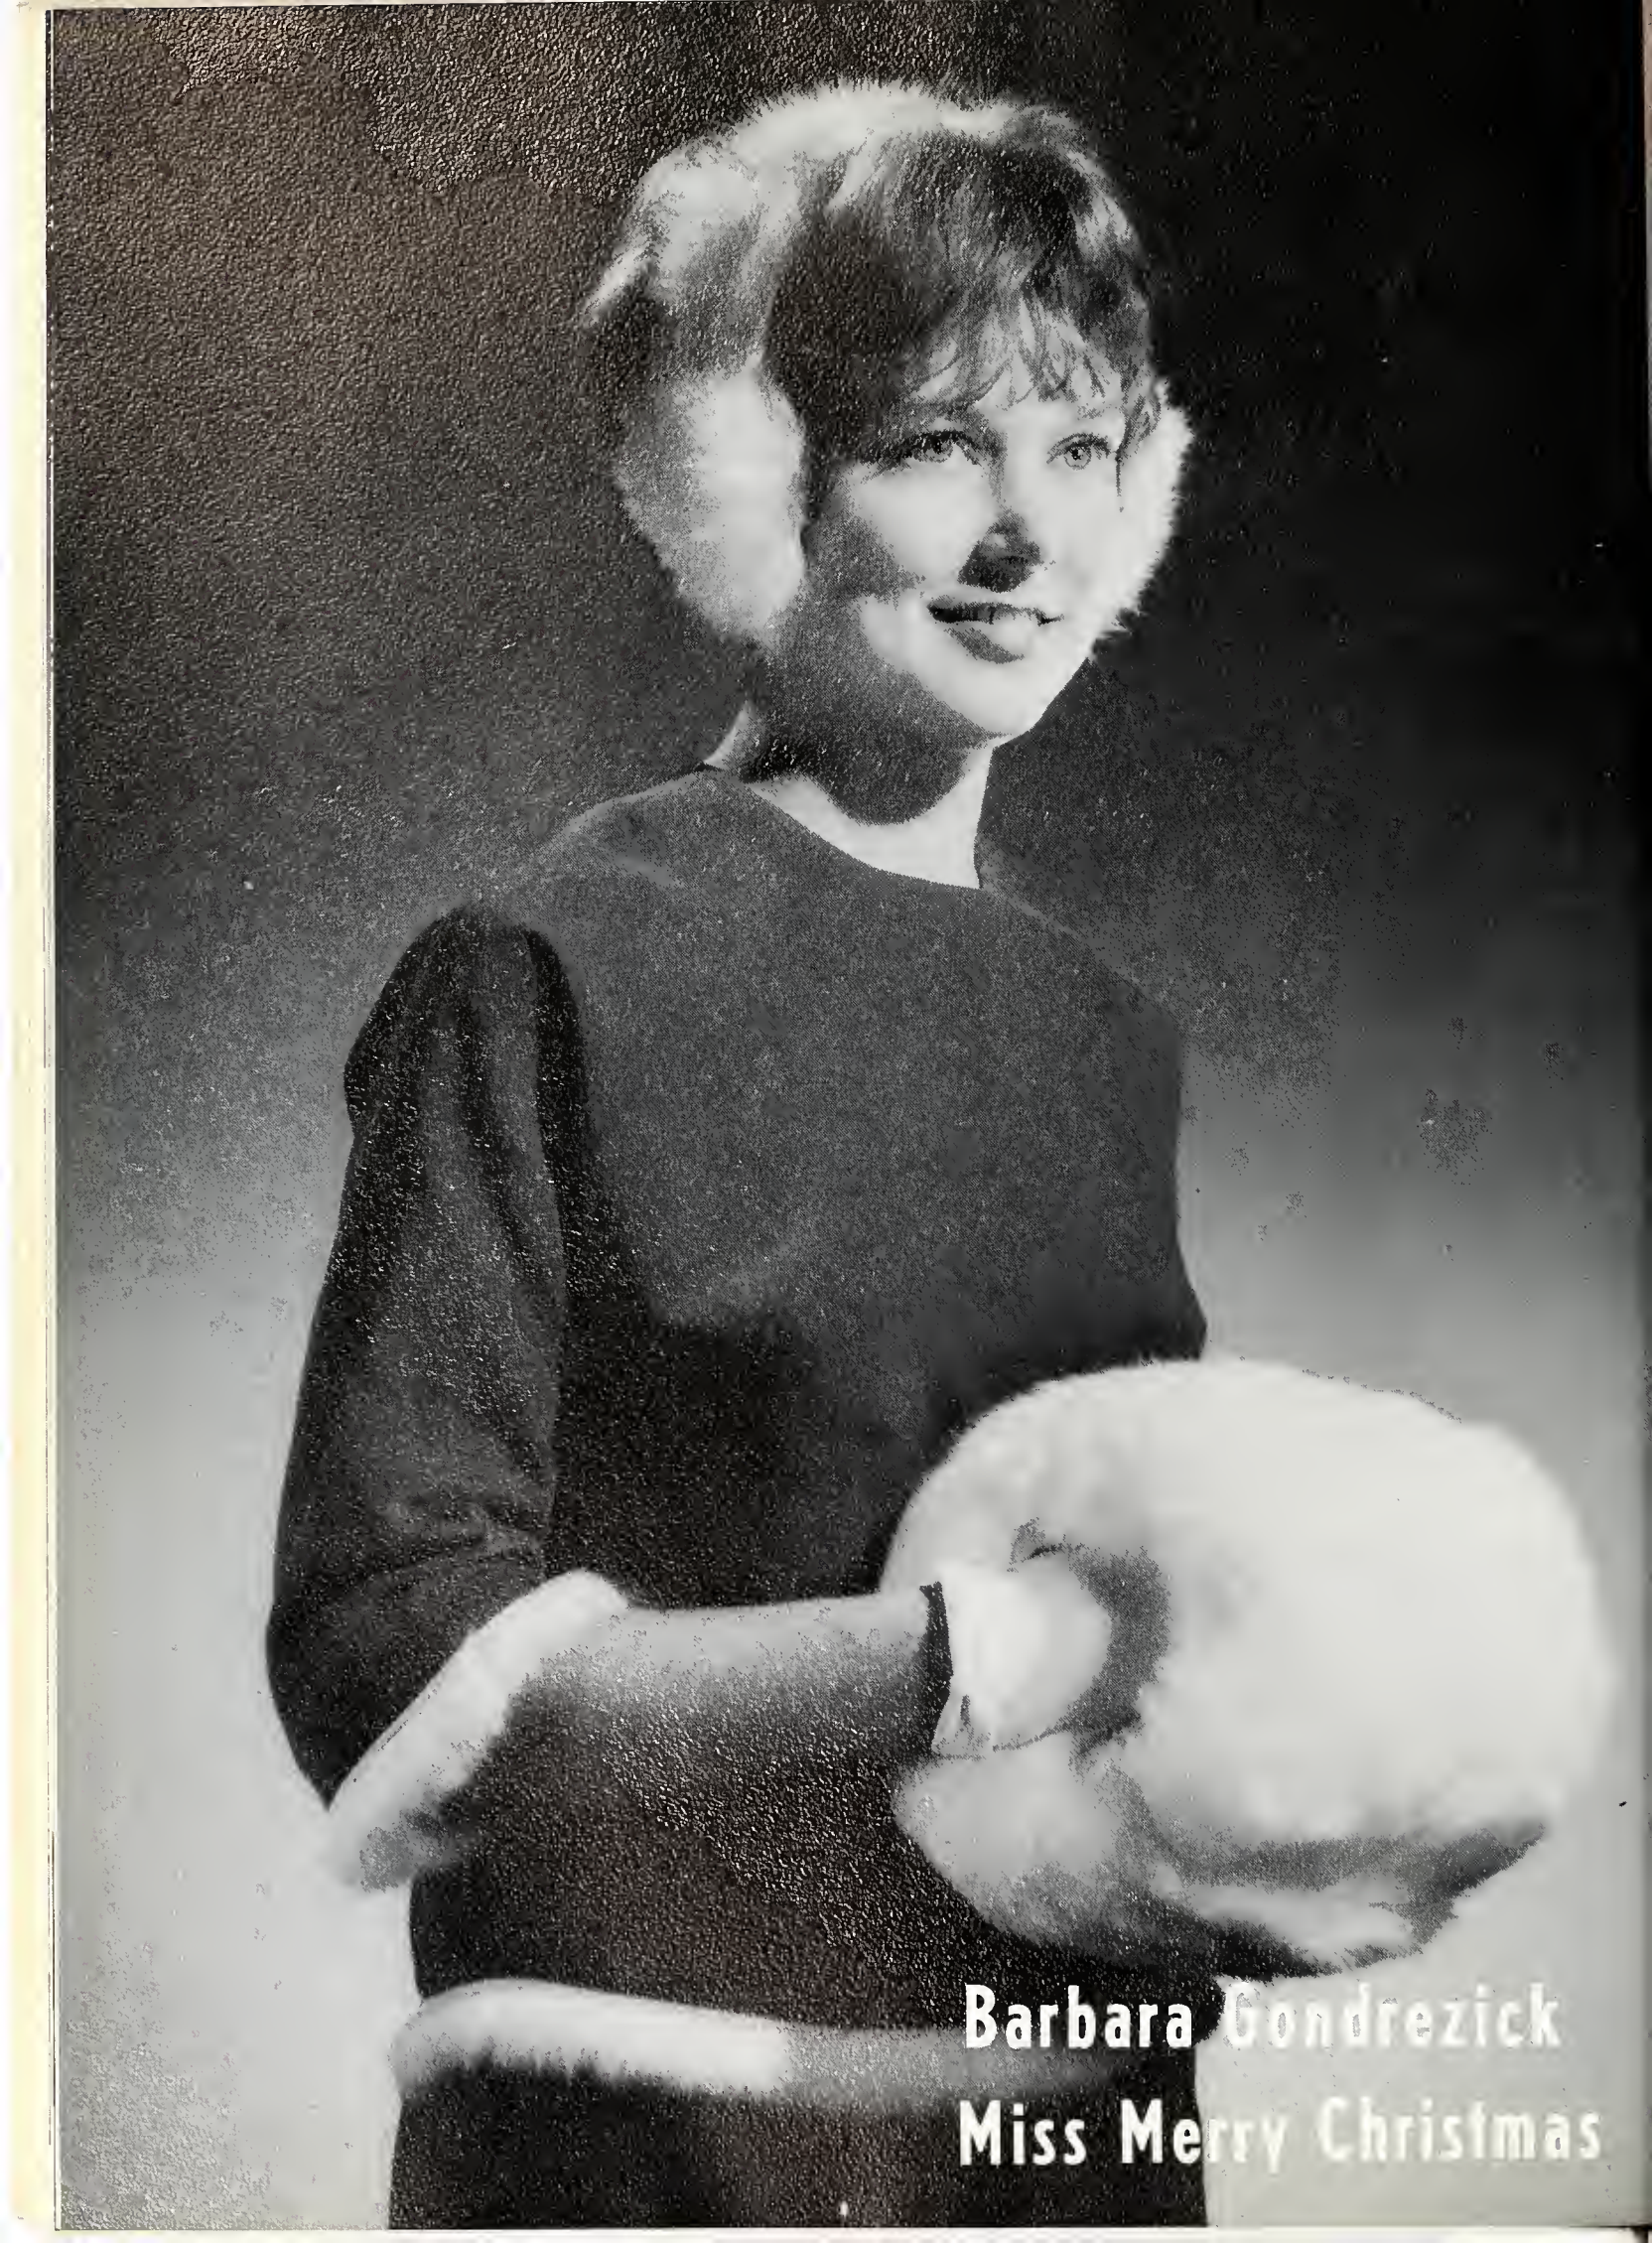

Santa Claus' introduction of Barbara Gondrezick as Miss Merry Christmas climaxed the program for 1963. A tea for the alumni, faculty and seniors was held afterwards in the cafeteria.

Cubs Plan "Polynesian Sunset"

Since 1964 is a leap year, it was appropriate that the girl-ask-boy Cub Dance was the first social event of the new year. The Cubs planned and organized an exceptionally successful party. In keeping with the theme of "Polynesian Sunset," the decorations included a wall mural showing a Polynesian sunset, bamboo blinds and ropes of artificial flowers, and a fountain of colored water with orchids floating in it. The King's throne was framed in a bamboo hut on a raised platform. Steve Christopher's band provided the music.

Choir Gives Three Operettas

This year the Concert Choir presented excerpts from three operettas.

The first, "Smoky Mountain," was the story of a country boy who found it hard to settle down and almost lost his sweetheart because of it. Playing the leading roles were Junior Lennie Harris and Senior John Inman. Assisted by Colleen Williams, Mike Rayback, John Lewis, and the chorus, they sang songs from American folk music.

The second operetta, "The Dizzy Batón," was a comedy. The story concerned two mental patients who posed as great musicians at a music school for society girls. Juniors D. W. Johnson and Bill Arndt ably played the leads.

The final operetta, "The Mikado," was laid in Japan and told the story of an oriental executioner who had to save face in the eyes of his supreme majesty. Mixed identities and missing personalities added to the confusion. Beth Chadwick, Terrill Summitt, and Dave Tally did an excellent job with the difficult Gilbert and Sullivan lyrics.

All School Cast Stages Political Satire

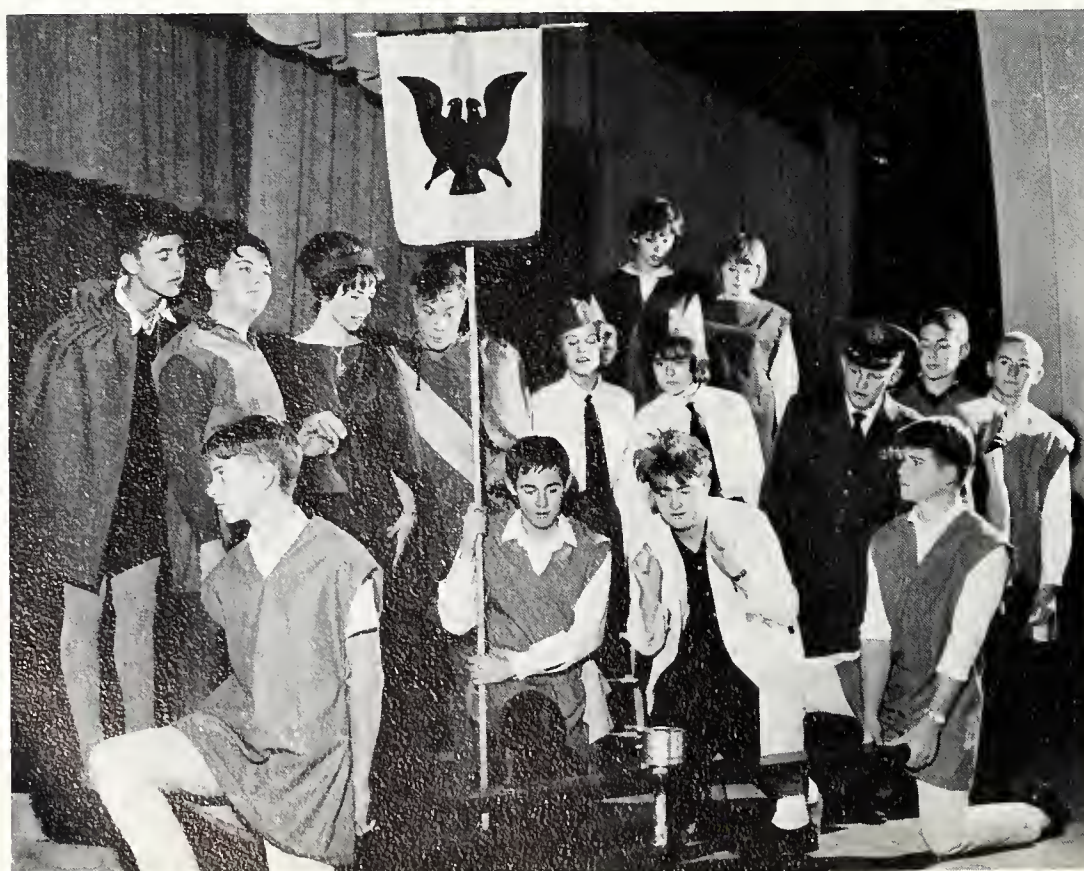

Led by Senior Debby Waugh and Junior Cal Winn, a cast of fifty-three players presented "The Mouse That Roared" on January 9, as the All School Play.

This amusing comedy satirized the relations of the United States with small nations. The imaginary Empire of Grand Fenwick declared war on the United States in order to obtain the benefits which they observed the United States always paid its defeated adversaries.

Under the able direction of Mr. Schweninger, the cast played to a capacity audience.

Onies Give Their First Class Play

"Seventeenth Summer," the first Sophomore Class Play, recounts the story of a girl's first romance from its beginning in June to its end in September when she departs for college.

The play was presented on February 27 and was directed by CSC student teacher David Giese under the supervision of Ivan Schweninger.

Vodvil, BHS's annual talent show which is sponsored, produced, and written by The Owl staff, was presented to a capacity crowd on March 19 in the auditorium. Centering around the theme of "Goldy Rocks," the show followed the campaign trail of Senator Goldwater and Governor Rockefeller in their bids for the Republican presidential nomination.

Jim Vanderpool, as Governor Rockefeller, and Jon Lang, as Senator Goldwater, emceed the show.

Fourteen acts were presented, the final one being made up of Owl staff members. The other thirteen acts were judged in two categories, entertainment and talent.

The Stage Band provided music for the audience while the judges decided on the winners.

Panthers of the Week are selected by Triangle Club. The honor, which is open to members of all three classes, is awarded in recognition of outstanding service to the school which might otherwise not be known and appreciated.

This year, Triangle Club made two honorary Panther of the Week awards to people outside of the school who have made exceptional contributions to BHS. The recipients were Mr. Monty Smith of the University of Colorado, for his help with the athletic program, and Mr. Charles Sayer, for his more than thirty years of service as timekeeper for all athletic events.

COMPARING LIFE AT BOULDER HIGH TO MEXICO, Mary Kuykendall and Guillermo Trejo Mejias find many similarities along with the differences.

Lilia Diaz is attending BHS while visiting her aunt for two and a half years. She has overcome the handicap of a limited knowledge of English during the school year. Her home is in Venezuela.

Oswaldo Paniagua was Boulder High's American Field Service exchange student for this year. He stayed with the R. H. Morton family the first semester, and the Harold Waltons the second semester.

Guillermo Trejo Mejias, a senior from Yucatan, Mexico, came to Boulder in June of last year and participated in the Colorado University mountain climbing program before entering BHS in September. He hopes to attend medical school in this country next year.

Junior Fernando Rosete spent a year in Boulder with his sister whose husband is an army officer here. He returned to his home in Mexico City at the end of the first semester.

Junior Alonzo Mendosa attended Boulder High for his second year. Chihuahua, Mexico, is Alonzo's home. For three years he went to a school in Mexico that had an American-Mexican system. Alonzo stayed with Junior Bud Holmes this past year.

Senior Heikki Vaarama and his sister Elina, a junior, have moved to Boulder with their parents from Turku, Finland. In addition to their native Finnish language, Heikki and Elina speak Swedish, English, and German.

Ricardo Rosete from Tulca, Mexico, stayed with Terry Michael during his four week visit to BHS. He returned the visit of ten Boulder High students to Tulca last summer as part of an exchange program arranged between the two schools.

Tienchai Mahasirik, a senior from Bangkok, Thailand, stayed with Jim Avery while attending BHS last year. He plans to stay in Boulder and attend Colorado University next year.

Odaroloc Staff Produces Yearbook

I would like to thank the entire staff and our sponsor Mr. Kildahl for their work on this ODAROLOC. We take pride in what we hope is an outstanding book, and it has been a privilege and pleasure to work together. In spite of late hours, frenzy in meeting deadlines, and lots of consistently hard work, we could always count on one another to do a good job whether in typing, photography, or editing. I'm sure it will always be a memorable experience for all of us to have worked together on the 1964 ODAROLOC.

Owl Continues High Standards During Most Productive Year

Under the leadership of adviser Mrs. Joanne Arnold, the Owl upheld its tradition of excellence during the 1963-64 school year.

Mrs. Joanne Arnold
Adviser

This year's staff published more editions of the Owl than any other Owl staff in history. Over 1,200 papers were distributed weekly to subscribers.

Paper Receives Highest Ratings

Last year the Owl received the highest ratings in the nation. It was judged Medalist by the Columbia Scholastic Press association and All-American by the National Scholastic Press association.

Editorships Shift Each Quarter

Richelle Husted was editor-in-chief for the entire year, but subordinate editorships changed each quarter.

Serving as assistant editors were Crystal Kinison, Diana Duncan, Marge McKenna and Ann Dugan.

News editors were Babs Rutland, Ann, John Morrison and Marge. Features were edited by Diana, Marcia Welsh, Don Poulton and Blaine Lam.

Sports editors were Reynold Akison, Steve Shaffer and Howard White. Becky Parker served as permanent advertising manager.

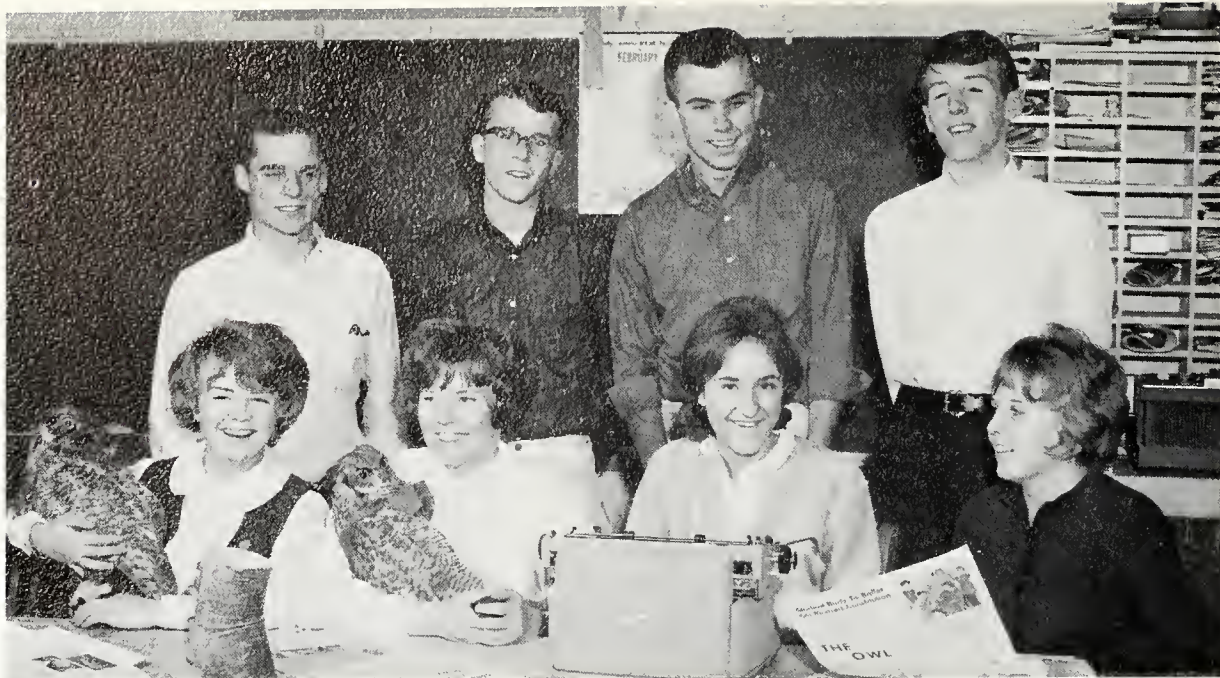

Dick Anderson and Jerry Kolb served as senior reporters.

B-Club Promotes Sportsmanship

PRESIDENT GARY MOSCHETTI and Greg Jacobson discuss details of the B-Club candy sale and calculate how much money they are making at fifty cents a bar.

B-Club, BHS's lettermen, seeks to encourage all capable students to participate in athletics, to foster the desire to win, and to set high standards of sportsmanship and scholarship. The club also promotes better coach-player relations, and better town and school spirit.

The year's activities included an annual candy sale, a dinner-dance in mid-March, an informal spring party, and the final banquet in the spring honoring all lettermen.

B-Club made a contribution of $25 to AFS this year.

BRBC Gives Program Weekly On Radio

Boulder Radio Broadcasting Club gives students the opportunity for the experience and excitement of actual radio broadcasting. For thirty minutes every Wednesday afternoon, the club presents on KBOL "High School Intermission," a program which includes news, sports, music, and feature material.

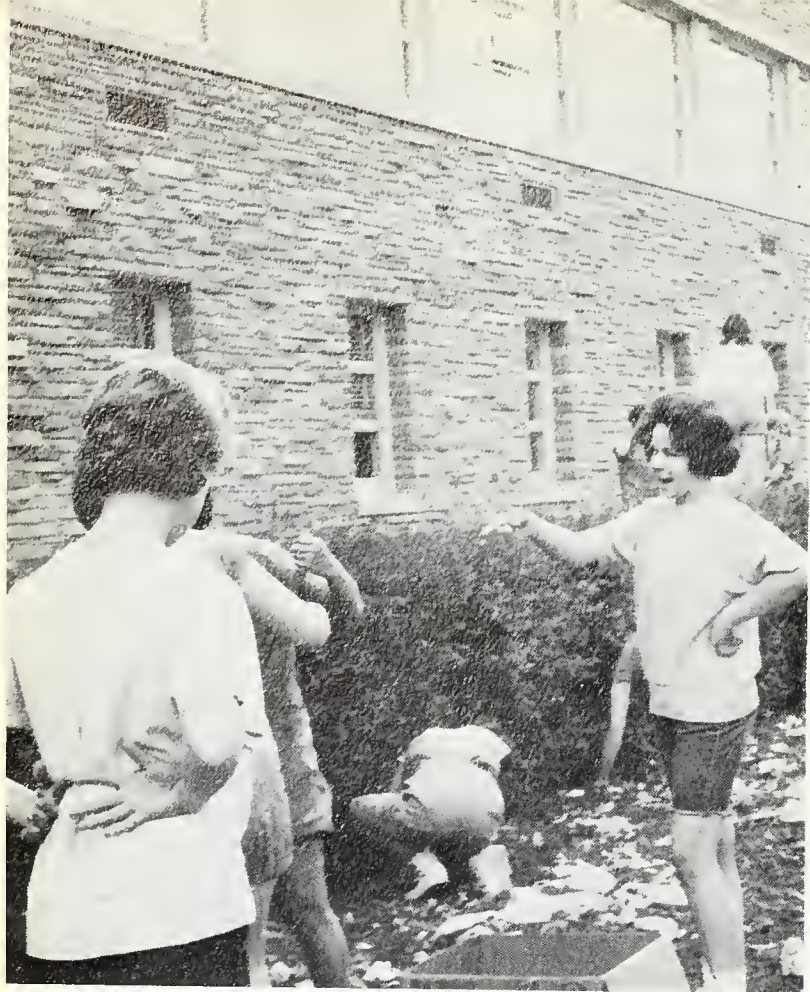

Each spring, BRBC takes over complete operation of the radio station for one day, from sign on to sign off.

One of the busiest Panther organizations is the Pep Club. The Cubs attend all games and meets in their colorful purple-and-gold uniforms. An initiation of sophomore members takes place in the fall, the traditional Cub Dance is sponsored at mid-year, and an annual banquet is held in May.

This year the Cubs had pot-luck suppers before most of the athletic events at which they often honored the athletes competing at the time. Throughout the year, they held poster parties to make clever and colorful posters. They also prepared messages to put on the players' lockers to cheer them on.

Under Crystal Kinison's inspired leadership, the Cubs had a banner year and achieved their purpose of raising school spirit for all athletic events.

Pompon Girls Perform at Games

Each year Cubs choose seven of their members to be Pompon Girls, four seniors and three juniors.

Standing behind the cub cheering section, they keep time to the rhythm of the cheers with their purple-and-gold shakers. They often perform at halftime and rallies, and this year their "stripper" dance became their most successful number.

GAA Enjoys Many Sports and Games

WITH A MIGHTY SERVE, Pam Penfold starts a volleyball game.

The Girls' Athletic Association stimulates interest in sports and games by means of a diversified program. Members may participate in the following sports at regular meetings: hockey, volleyball, basketball, softball, tennis, archery, swimming, and trampoline.

Special events for the year began with the initiation picnic, held this year on September 16, at Chautauqua. Its primary purpose was to welcome new sophomore members into the organization and acquaint them with the club's program.

GAA sponsors at least one play day each year, to which they invite GAA clubs from schools in other cities. The basketball play day this year helped members become better acquainted with girls from other schools by working and playing together.

The last get-together of the GAA was a banquet at which new officers and managers were installed and the girls who had earned awards during the year were honored.

IRC Strives for Better World Relations

IRC MEMBERS listen attentively at regular meeting.

International Relations Club has as its aim familiarizing its members with the issues and mechanics of international affairs.

In mid-November, IRC, in conjunction with the Colorado High School Assembly for the United Nations, sponsored the Conference on International Affairs which featured a speaker and group discussions.

Other highlights of the year included participation in the Denver University Conference on International Affairs, a model UN Assembly in Greeley, and CHSAUN Annual Conference on World Affairs in conjunction with the CU World Affairs Week.

Thespians Produce School Plays

Thespians, Boulder High's drama club, is active in all aspects of dramatic production, including make-up, ticket selling, properties, lighting, and costuming, as well as acting.

The club opened its program with a picnic at Chautauqua. Under Mr. Schweninger's skilled direction, the club presented five plays during the year. The Junior, Senior, and All-School Plays were traditional, but this year the club had a Sophomore Play. In addition, the Thespians prepared a play for presentation at the Regional Competition in Greeley in April.

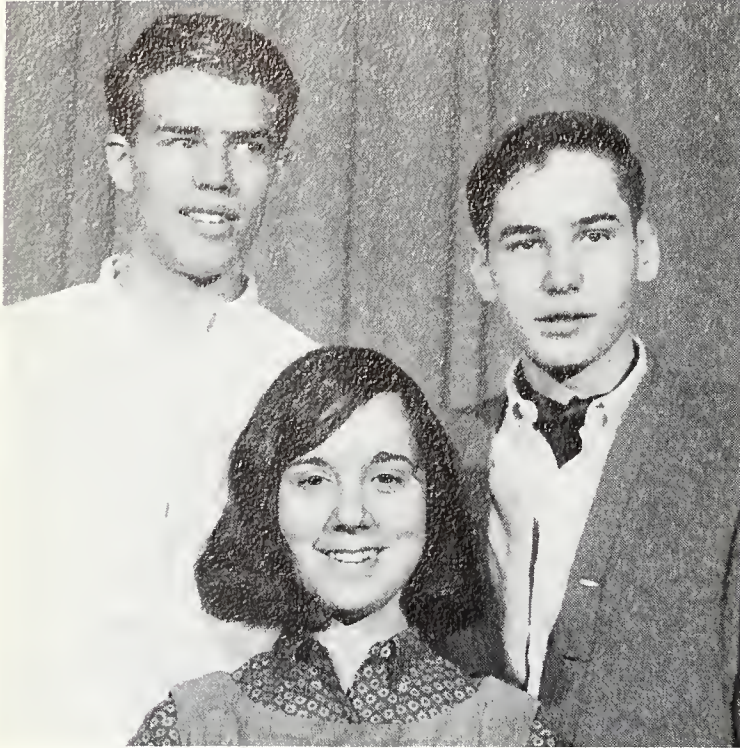

Two initiations were held during the year for students who, through work in the club productions, earned the required points for membership.

Relive Roman Customs

SHOWING PROPER RESPECT FOR THEIR PATRICIANS, plebeians Jane Fankboner, Larry Parrish, and Ann Willyard ask for laws. Officers Lisa Tenenbaum, Day Thomson, Jim Waters, Bob Dugan, and Richard Smith seem to enjoy their power.

Latin Club seeks to stimulate interest in, and a better understanding of, Roman living, culture, civilization, beliefs, and customs and their relation to those of the present day.

In order to be initiated into the club, Latin II students had to prove their worthiness at very elaborate initiation ceremonies. The club sponsored Christmas caroling in Latin and, in the spring, participated in the State Junior Classical League Convention. A school-wide Ides of March contest was held on March 15.

The year concluded with a banquet hosted by the Latin II students for the Latin III and IV scholars. Scholarships were awarded to active members who had maintained a high average.

Spanish Club encourages the speaking of the Spanish language and learning more about the Spanish-speaking people of the world and their customs.

The club began the year with a picnic at Chautauqua which commemorated El Dia de la Rosa, a festival which all Spanish-speaking people celebrate. Their active year included a People-to-People Program which featured an exchange of tape recording with Toluca, Mexico. Interest groups in Spanish music and dancing, and a conversation group were held. Special events were the Christmas party at which Spanish customs were observed and a Pan American Day program in the spring.

Concert Choir

Concert Choir, Girls' Choir, and Junior Choir presented a fall program, an evening Christmas program, a school assembly for St. Nick's Day, and a final concert in the spring. Concert Choir staged excerpts from three operettas in February and participated in the Choir Festival for Northern Conference schools in April. In June, Concert Choir ended the year by taking part in the Class Day ceremonies which honored the seniors.

Madrigals, Boys' Quartet, and Girls' 21 were selected from the three choirs by director Eva Musil. The three small singing groups sang in all of the choir programs and, in addition, participated in a Small Group Festival in March at Longmont and a final small group program in May.

DIRECTOR

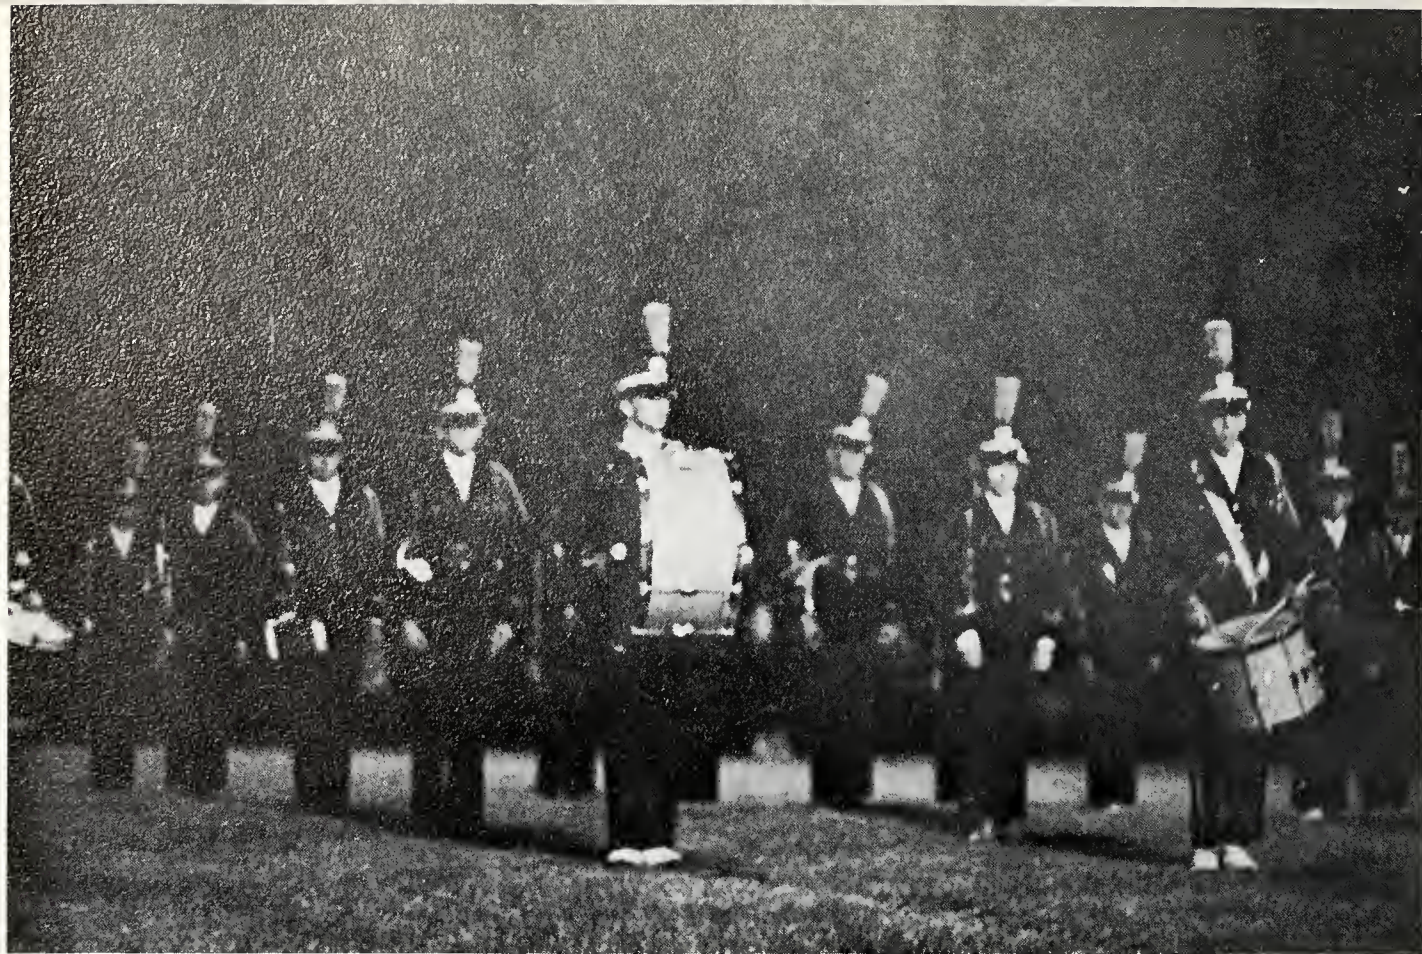

W. E. Seguine

Under the direction of Mr. William Seguire, the Boulder High Orchestra had an outstanding year. Twelve members were selected to play in the ninth annual All State Orchestra which was held February 7-9 at the University of Colorado.

The orchestra as a whole entered the annual orchestra contest which was held April 15 in Ft. Collins at Colorado State University.

This year, the orchestra presented their annual assembly for the school on April 29, and their annual Spring Concert on April 30.

POISED FOR ACTION, the marching band awaits the whistle during a football halftime ceremony.

DRUM MAJORS Ron Crowell and Bill Gullette get some kicks in marching practice.

Band Entertains With Marching and Concerts

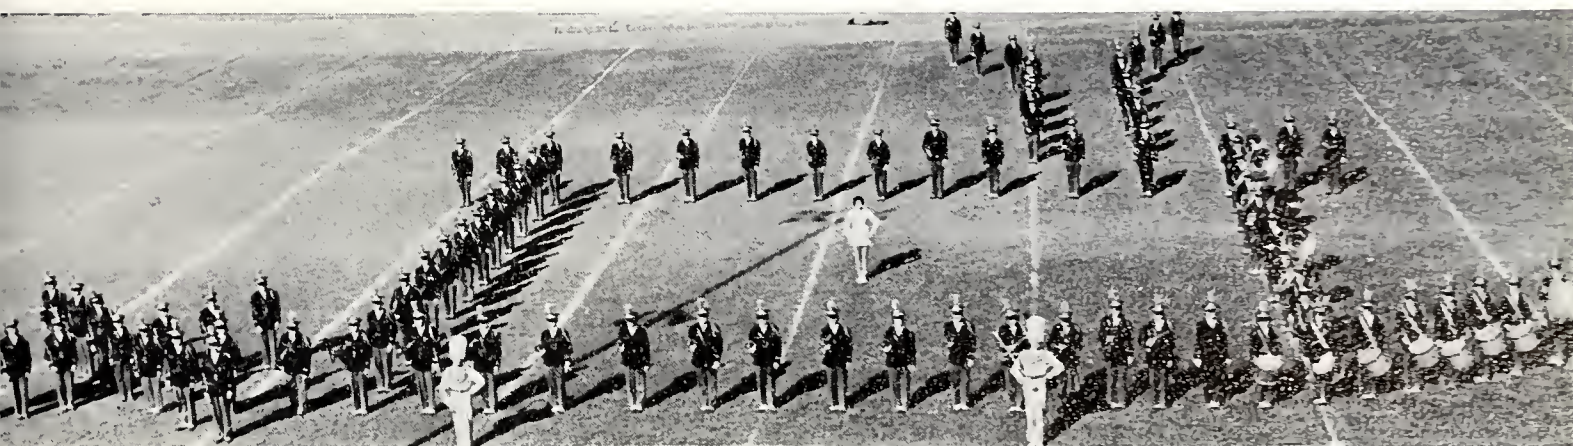

TROMBONE PLAYERS LEAD OUT during an outdoor practice.

Boulder High's Band, under the direction of Edward Kehn, had its usual successful year. In the fall, they contributed greatly to the color and excitement of the football season by their appearance at half time. On March 4, the band presented its school assembly program, and on March 11, their Winter Concert, which featured Robert Lowry as clarinet soloist.

Three members of the band were chosen to play with the All State High School Band in Greeley at Colorado State College on April 4 and 5. The band entered the band contest on April 15, in Fort Collins at Colorado State University.

Dale Alison, playing bass, was selected as a member of the United States High School Band.

AN INTRICATE FORMATION involves the whole band.

English Instructors Teach Mastery of Language

Language evolved in the history of man's development as the means by which an individual can convey his thoughts his ideas, his hopes, and even his longings to his associates; it is also the means by which he can receive these things from others.

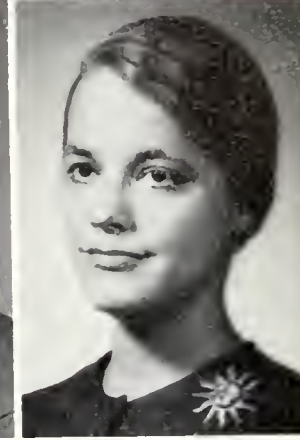

Through mastery of language, man is able to explore the past, understand his own age, and project his ideas into the future. It is the development of this mastery in every student which is the concern of the English teacher.

Students Learn of Free Society in Social Studies

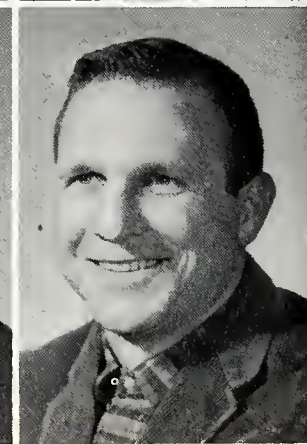

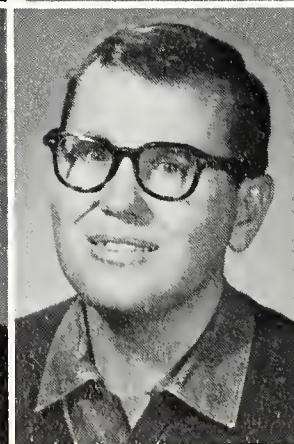

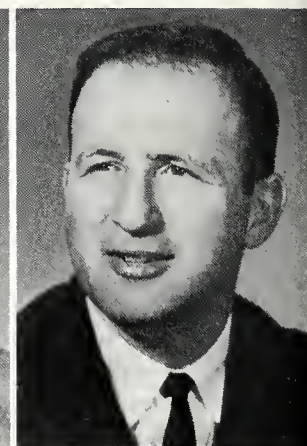

A variety of courses are offered in the Social Studies Department at Boulder High School. Only American History is required in the student's junior year. As a sophomore, World History and World Geography are offered as electives. Sociology, Economics, Latin American History, Oriental History, Current World Affairs and a Government Problems class are other courses offered at Boulder High School in the student's junior and senior years.

The most inclusive aim of this department is to help young people learn to carry on the free society they have inherited, to make whatever changes modern conditions demand or creative imagination suggests that are consistent with its basic principles and values.

Students Develop Perceptive, Imaginative Skills In Art

The Art program at Boulder High School is organized around the concept that the high school student is in need of help in selecting a mature direction towards the realization of a valid visual comprehension: Most secondary students know how to read and write. A few number are able to listen intelligently. But a very small group is able to listen intelligently. But a very small group is able to visually "perceive," without special training in this area.

It is the objective of the high school Art Department to try and develop the perceptive and imaginative skills of each individual art student to the place where the student is able to express himself more adequately in a visual manner.

Foreign Language Department Offers Latin, German, French, Russian, Spanish

The Foreign Language Department has classes in Latin, and in the following modern languages: French, German, Russian and Spanish.

The modern languages offer an audio-lingual program the objectives of which are to help students learn to understand a foreign language as it is spoken by educated native speakers; to speak within the limits of their experience in a manner acceptable to native speakers; to read with comprehension and pleasure; to express themselves in writing in a manner that is authentic stylistically.

Seniors Reach The Top

Jon Lang, vice-president; Pam Koenig, secretary-treasurer; Greg Jacobson, president.

With the Senior Fry, the class began a final, exciting year. The seniors planned the St. Nick's Day assembly and following it, gave a Christmas tea for Alumni, faculty, and seniors. In the spring, the class play was presented. The Senior Class officers supervised the election of the Junior-Senior Prom Queen and, with the juniors, planned the Junior-Senior Prom.

The year was climaxed by the activities of Senior Week, which included the Senior Breakfast, Class Day exercises at which the graduating seniors and their parents were honored, and graduation.

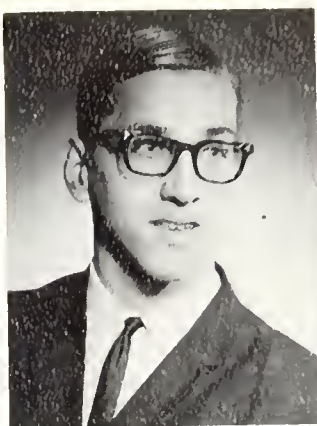

For an outstanding year which passed all too quickly, the class is indebted to its officers and sponsors, Mrs. Fraker, Mr. Patten, Mr. Blubaugh, Mrs. Hoffman, Mr. Bostrum, Mr. Gilbert, Mr. Hamilton, Mrs. Lee, Miss Oliver, Mrs. Beasley, and Mr. Swinscoe.

Sophomore Class Enters Boulder High

Bobby Anderson, king; Nancy Hutchinson, girls' advisor; D. N. McDowell, boys' advisor.

By bowing down to Minnie and Jake and accepting the school colors from the Junior Class in September, the Sophomore Class became members of the Boulder High student body.

Their first act of a busy year was the election of class officers, who, in turn, selected and ordered the class rings. A first this year was the presentation of a Sophomore Class Play.

The Sophomore Class is grateful to its sponsors, Mr. Rosan, Mr. Graf, and Mrs. Bev Jones, for their help and encouragement during the year.

Coach Wilson led the Panther squad through their greatest year since 1946. The Panther mentor now has a record of 18 wins and 2 losses since he took command of the team last year. Here he makes the right decision, with Coach Cohen's assistance, during the Fort Collins game. Halfback Ron McGuckin looks on.

The Panther's last year in the Northern Conference was one of overwhelming victory. The grid squad, under the experienced guidance of Coach Wilson, set the pace in the Northern Conference with a perfect season, nine wins and no losses. They outscored their conference opponents, 308 to 78, and gained a berth in the state playoffs.

Fullback Dick Anderson and Guard Vern Legvold were selected by the team as honorary captains. Anderson became the first Panther to ever rush for more than 1,000 yards in one season. His total for the year was 1,041, and he scored 148 points during the season. Legvold was attributed to holding Collins' Bill Shoemaker, the league's leading scorer, to an average 3 1/2 yards per carry during the important title game.

B Squad Gains Grid Experience

THE PANTHER B squad started strong this season and ended on a somewhat disappointing note, as the team led off with four consecutive wins and ended with three losses. A strong sophomore backing gives lots of hope for next year's varsity. Junior Bob Wendling, quarterback, and sophomore full-back D.N. McDowell saw lots of action and should see the same next year on the varsity. All in all the outlook is good for next year's team.

Lakewood Falls In Overtime

Hang on, Ira!! Litke puts the stop to a Lakewood back.

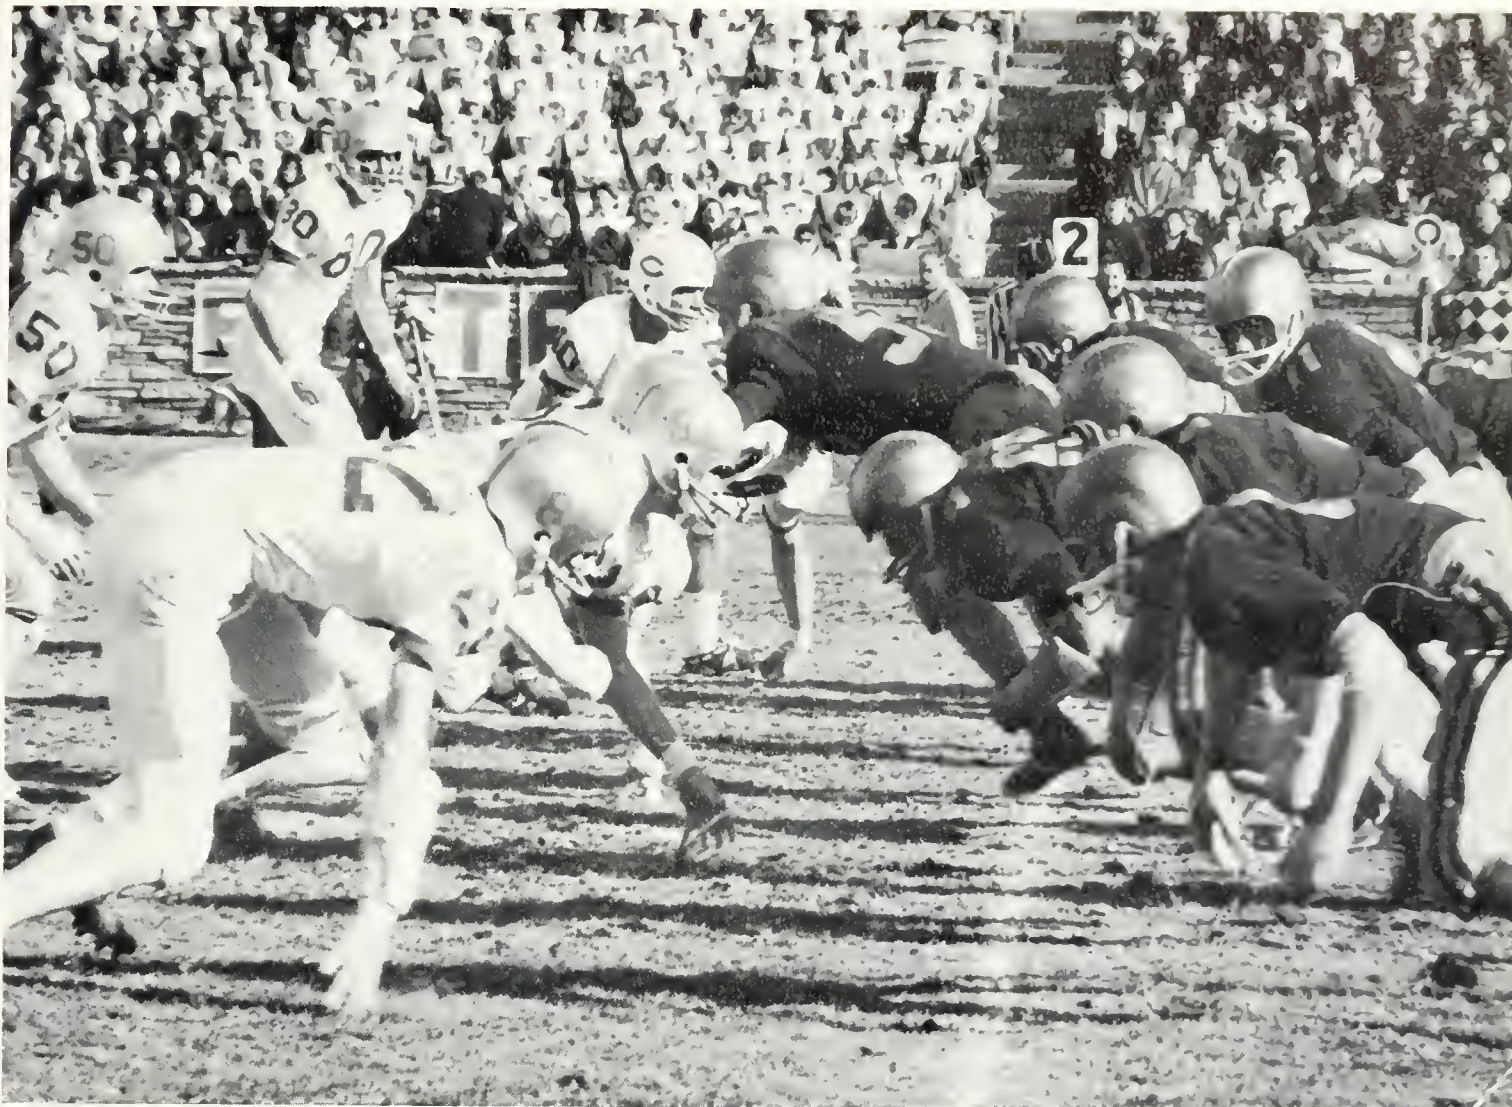

Jefferson County Stadium was the scene of one of the closest and most exciting playoffs. Lakewood, the only blemish on the Panther record this season, fell in an overtime contest with the game ending 8-6.

Both teams scored, missed the extra point, ending the game in a 6-6 tie. The overtime play-off was controlled by a strong Panther offense and the Lakewood Tigers bowed in yardage 59-13.

Boulder ace Dick Anderson, because of an ankle injury, did not play during the second half, but brother Bob made up the loss by turning in one of his best performances of the year. Bobbie's passing and halfback Warren Gillete's receiving moved the Panthers into the state finals.

Ten thousand, seven hundred ardent fans watched as Boulder steamrolled Pueblo Centennial, 18-0.

Dick Anderson, still suffering from his ankle injury, scored the first touchdown. Warren Gillete used his speed talents and wrapped up the state triumph with two more scores.

Following the game, Dick Anderson and Vern Legvold were selected as All-State team members and Coach Wilson was named the number one coach in the state. Coach Emerson Wilson described the season in one word, "Desire."

Netters Finish Tenth In State

BOULDER HIGH's tennis team completed a successful season with a tenth place finish in the state play-offs. The Panther net men finished third in the Northern Conference behind league winner Aurora Hinkley and second place Fort Collins. Boulder defeated Aurora Central, Fort Morgan, Greeley, Longmont, Englewood, Sterling, and Abraham Lincoln in fashioning a 7-2 record.

At the Northern Conference qualifying meet senior letterman Jim Waters won the No. 2 singles crown. Boulder's other entrees, No. 1 man, senior Bill Gullette, and the doubles team of senior Alan Weber and junior Paul Boland both placed third in the meet. In the state competition Waters scored Boulders only point with a first round victory over John Howard of Cheyenne Mountain.

COACH FITCH made a good teacher as the team started off weak and ended strong.

Slow Start Plagues Panthers

COACH FURMAN discusses pre-game strategy with the Varsity during the Sterling game.

Panthers In Middle

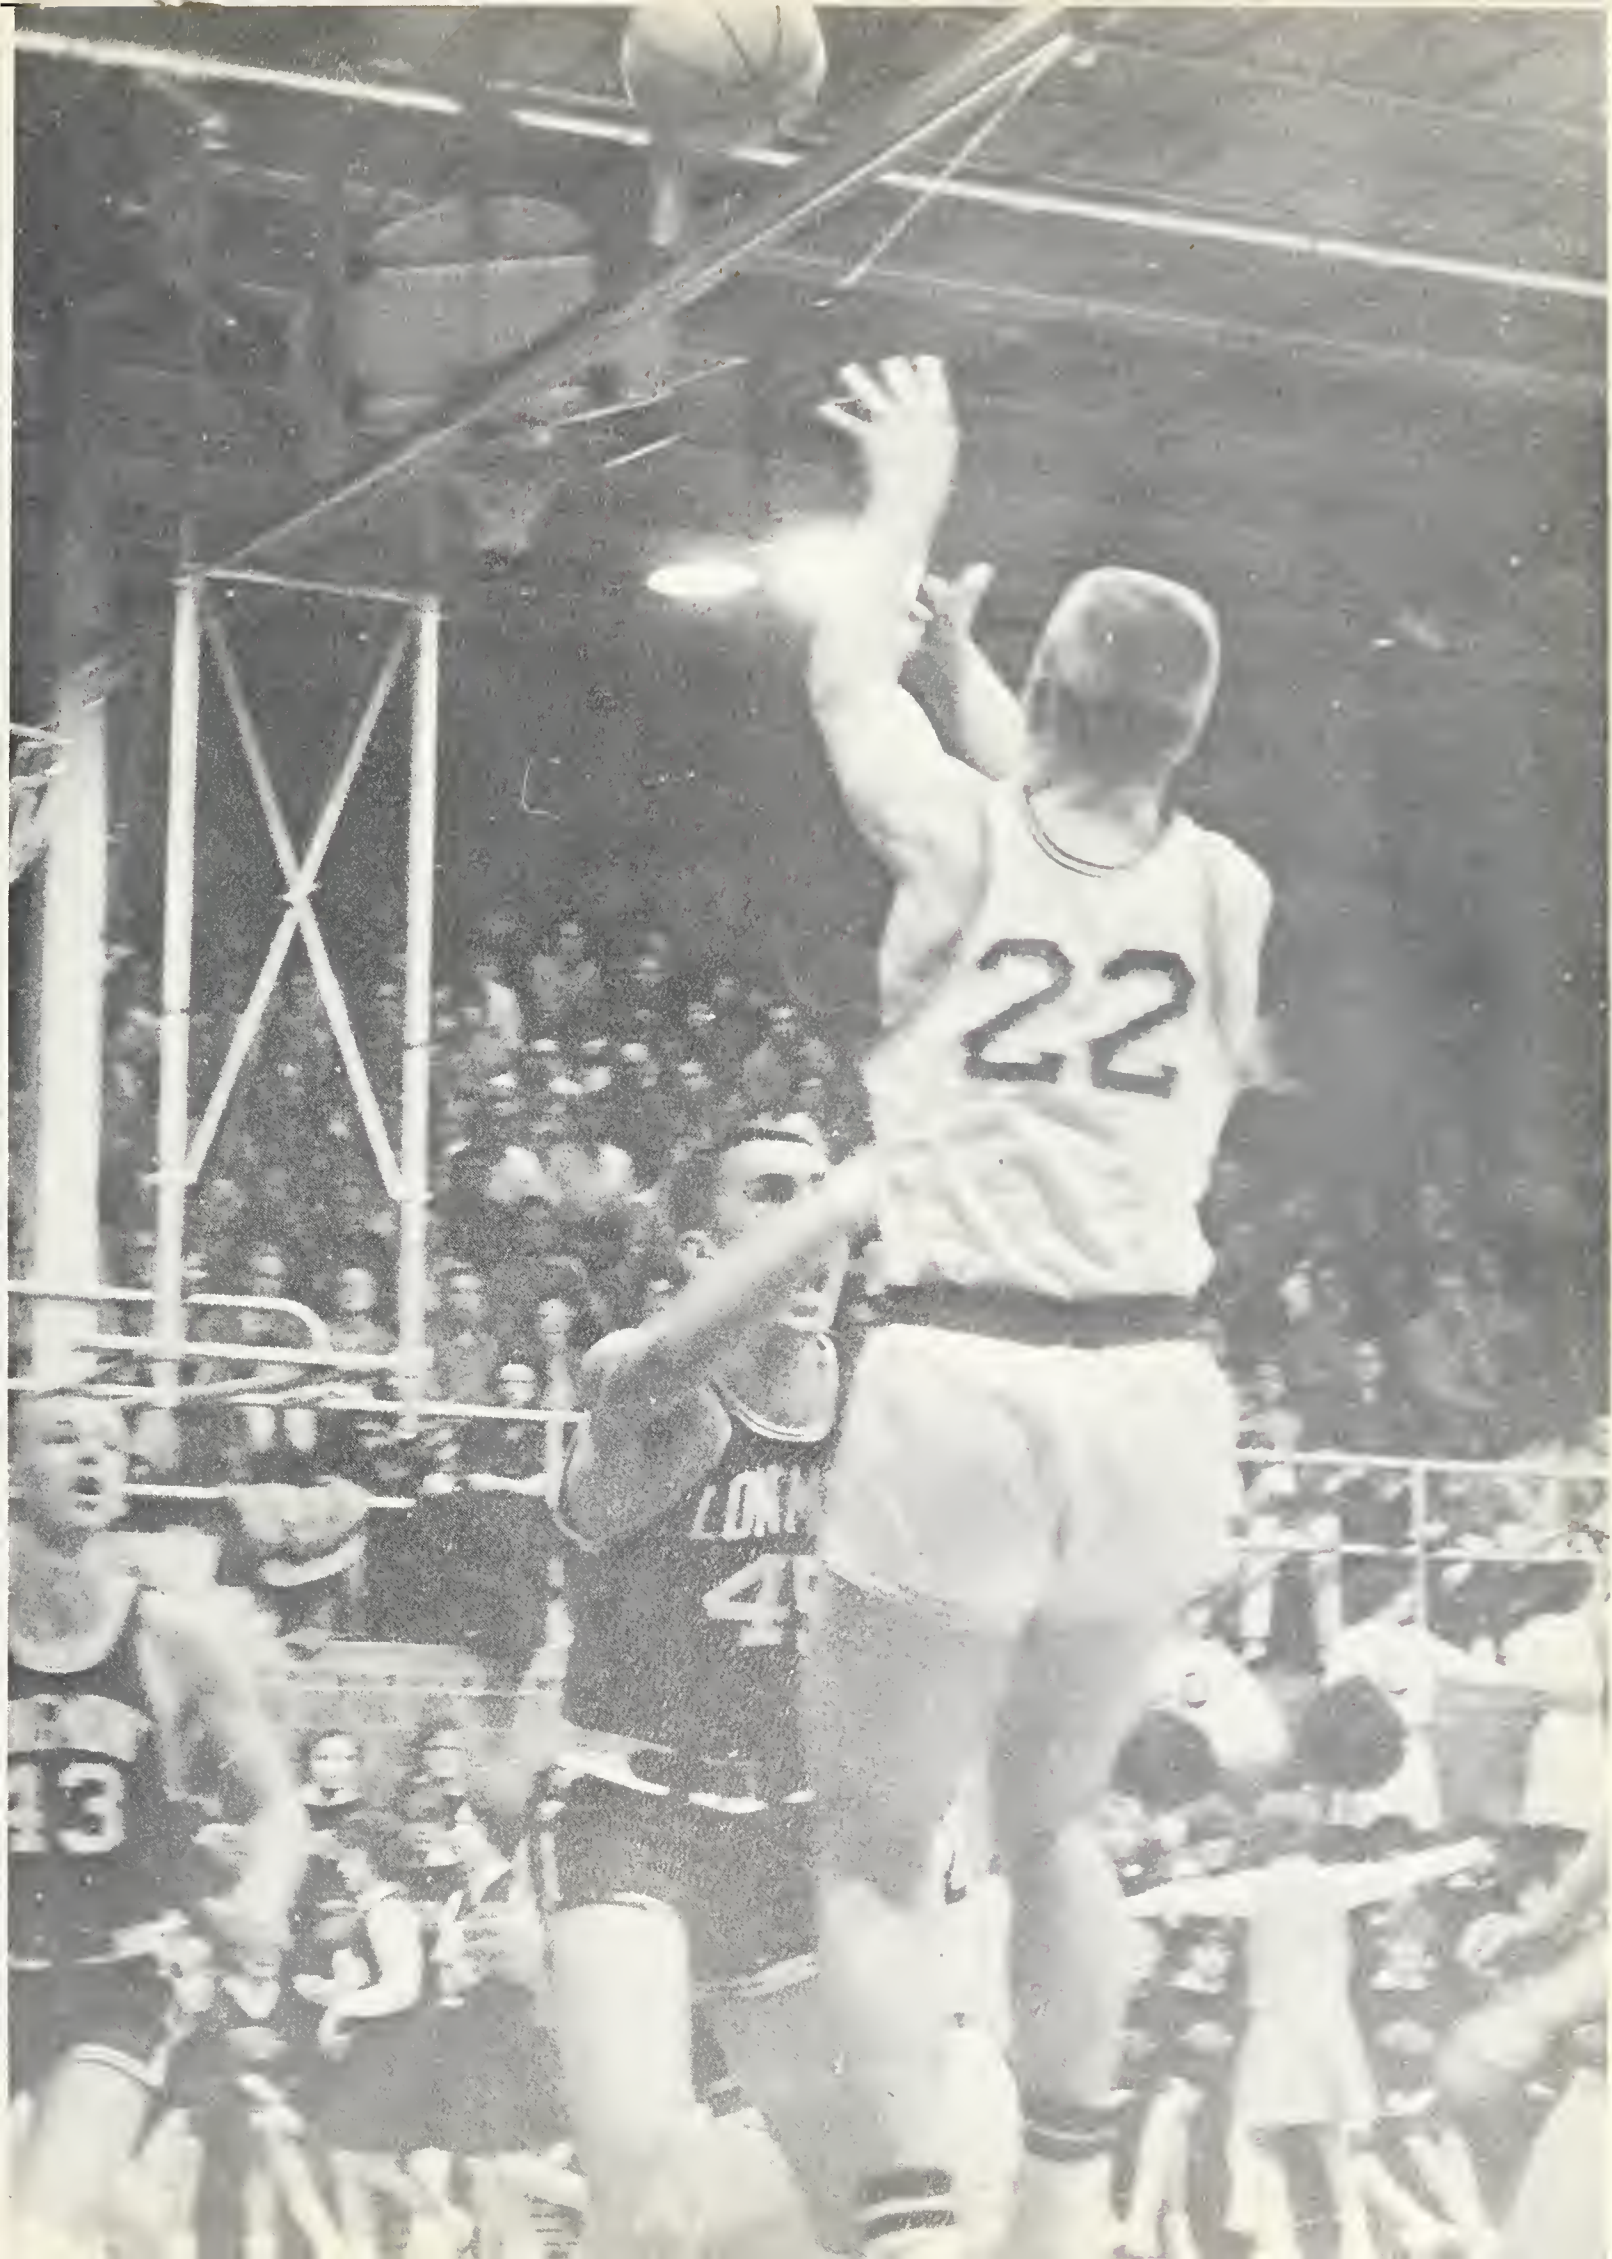

A slow start hurt the Panthers this season as they ended in the middle of the conference. Several of the team's veterans sustained injuries and were side lined for a great part of the season. The Panthers were an inexperienced team and were not expected to do even as well as they did. Under Coaches Furman and Wilson our boys had the drive and fire of a championship team but lacked the experience of previous seasons. Since the team was largely made up of underclassmen the outlook is very good for next year.

DICK ANDERSON scores two against Longmont. "Andy," hurt by an earlier football injury, did not turn in his usual brilliant performance this season.

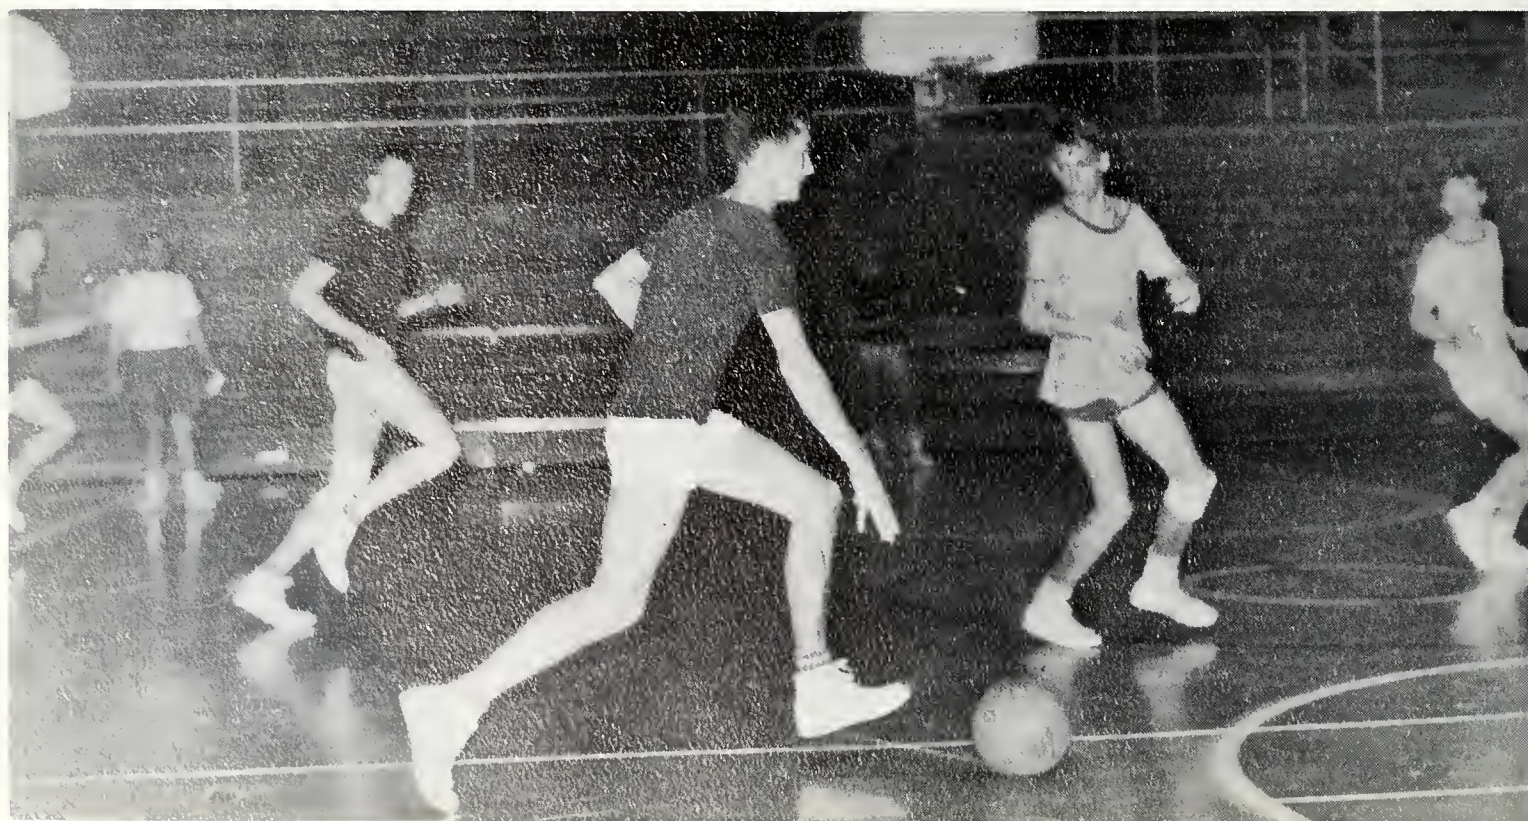

"WELL, ALL RIGHT!!" Coach Furman and players approve of action during the Hinkley game. Coach Wilson looks on.

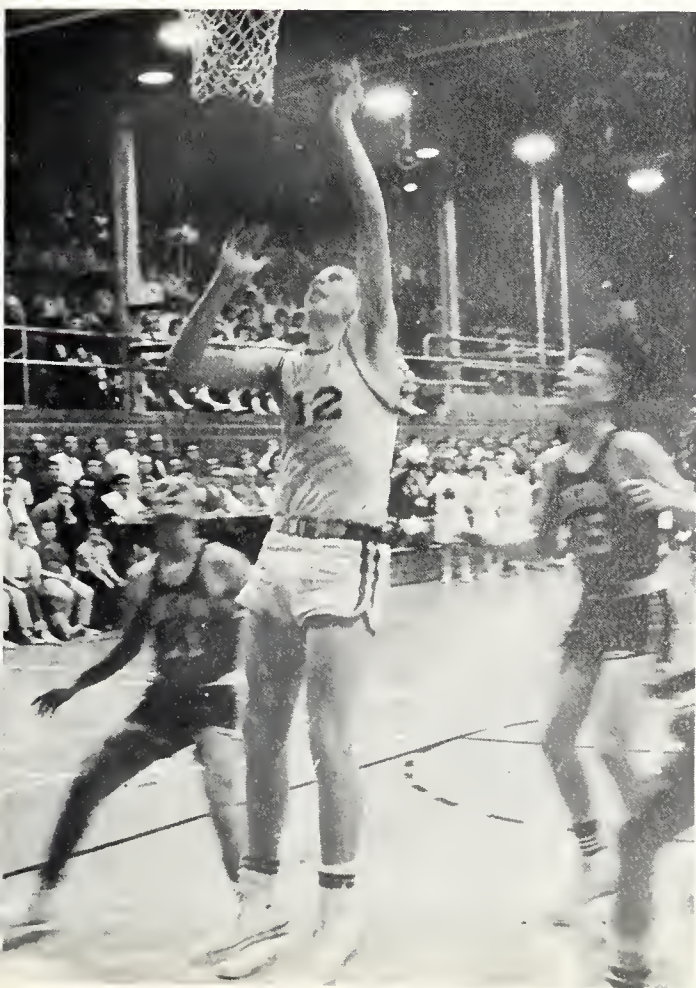

STEVE CLARK leaps forward to score two points against Aurora Central.

"BUT COACH! This ball don't bounce," said Steve flatly.

"NOW LET'S MAKE it fast. Up to Pearl, turn right at the corner, and . . . Andy don't forget your crutches."

B Squad Shines

Boulder's Junior Varsity gained experience and played good ball this season. Their season ended with them being half and half in the won, loss column, and spoke highly of the prospects of next year's varsity. Lee Fabrizio, Tom Engel, and others are perhaps the brightest hopes for next year. Coach Wilson worked hard with the Junior Varsity team and considers their season a very good one.

Sophs Look Good

The Sophomore Squad turned in a fine season this year, finishing with an 11-2 record. Height, speed, and good coaching enabled the Onies to gain needed experience and to enhance the hopes of the next two years. Involved in rough competition, they continually outshone their opponents and portrayed real talent in doing so. The outlook is bright for a winning team with these boys on the varsity next year.

STEVE MILES lays it up and the Anderson brothers outmaneuver Longmont for the rebound.

COACH PATTEN checks riding time at the State Meet. Patten's coaching made State Champs of Rhodes and Espinoza.

Wrestlers Third In State

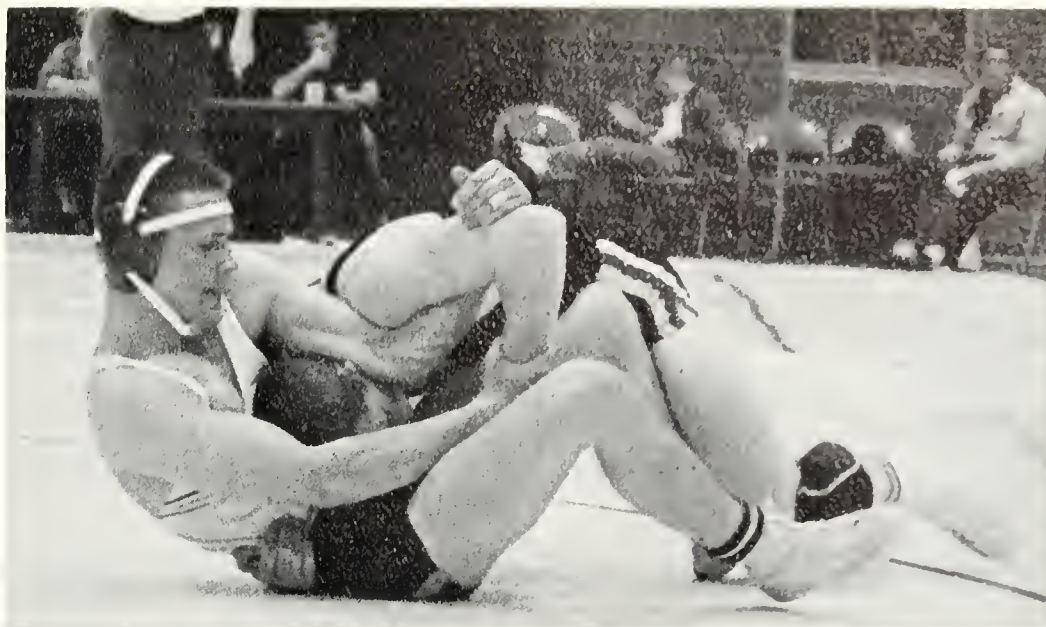

Panther wrestlers finished the season with their usual fine showing at the State Meet. In team points we were third in State and produced two state champions, Rhodes and Espinoza, as well as a runner-up, Mike Stanley. The overall season statistics were: won-14; lost-2.

We sent seven men to State and ended a fine season rated third. Wrestling a good season with near perfect records were Pete Nord, Blaine Lam, Tom DeBaker, Chet Sadler, and Jerry Hetherington, all seniors.

Team Experienced

Experience was the biggest factor in favor of this year's track squad. The Panther tracksters this year boasted nine returning lettermen. They are: Blaine Lam, Greg Jacobson, Warren Gillette, Bob Putney, Mark Keller, Mike Stanley, Ron Bush, Dave Lowder, and Bob Beehler.

Numbers also played a large part this season. At the beginning of the season 87 boys reported. This number sets a new record for Coach Swinscoe; it is the greatest number since he started coaching.

With several state-title contenders boosting the track team's power, they're setting their sights high. Setting them on a first place conference finish and placing strong at State.

Diamond Crew Confident

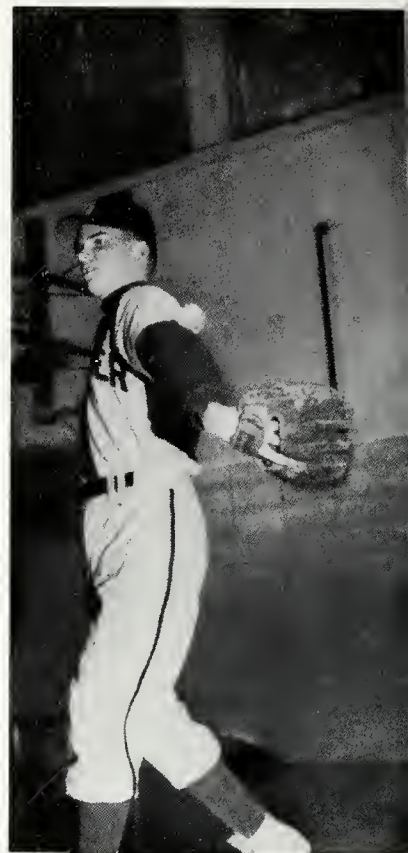

The Panther diamond crew is confident about having a winning season this year. The squad boasts six returning lettermen and ten seniors as they entered a rough season. The returning lettermen and seniors are: Steve Miles, first base, pitcher; Gary Moschetti, catcher; Larry Brammer, pitcher; Butch Etter, infield; Knox Wasley, infield; and Ron McGuckin, catcher.

The strong pitching of Steve Miles, Larry Brammer, and Gary Mavity is backed up by Buzz Schoenbeck, Sid Martin, Lee Fabrizio, and Lon Carlson. Head coach Phil Cohen, with the help of Sam Pagano, will work with the varsity, while the junior varsity will be under the direction of Dan Grimm.

Coach Cohen is expecting some expert help from sophomore hopefuls Bob Anderson, D. N. McDowell, and Tom Engle.

Golf Men Set For Season

The Panther golf squad, suffering from lack of experience, heads for a rough season with only one returning letterman, Dick Anderson. Anderson is expected to be rated high in state contention, as he has been for two years.

With only three men returning from last year's top ten, the outlook is undecided. However, Coach Wally Schneider expects a lot of help from a large sophomore turnout.

COACH SCHNEIDER checks clubs with this year's only returning letterman, Dick Anderson.

J. T. GARCIA works on the form that put him in Boulder's top ten last year.

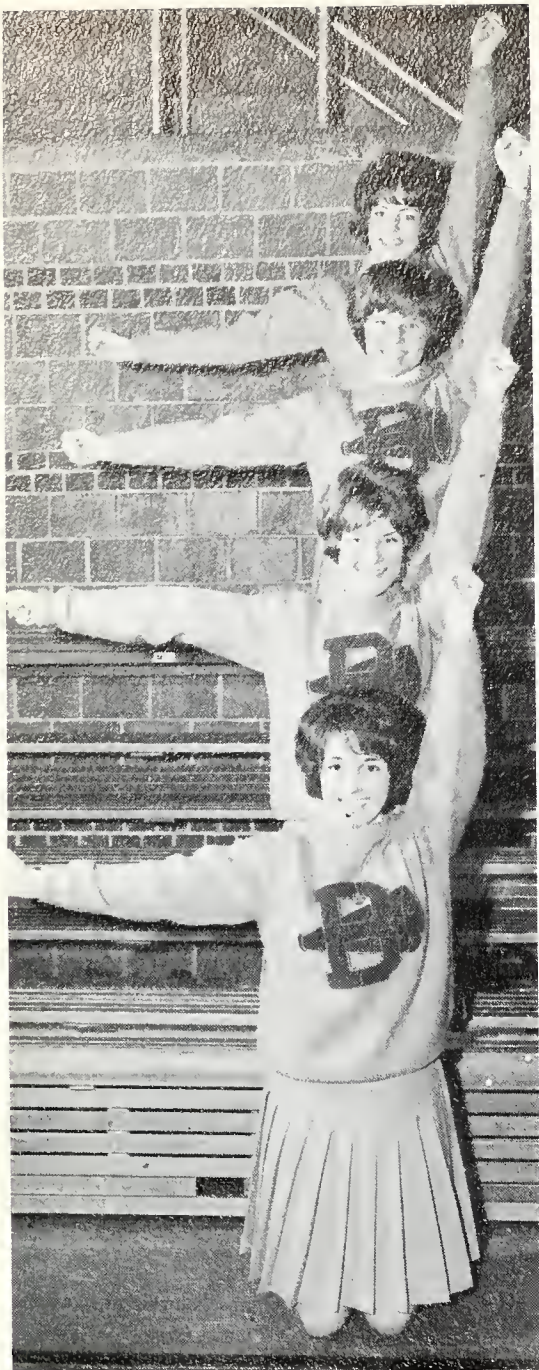

DICK ANDERSON, demonstrates his state contending style.

SENIOR SANDY HUME, determined, and serious, tees off en route to a championship season.

BEHIND THE SCENES, Jane Dimit prepares to sell pep hats while Cheri Deitemeyer prepares to be glamorous.

Enthusiasm

This year's varsity cheerleaders continued the standard of excellence to which Boulder High has become accustomed.

Marge McKenna, Sonja Hawkins, and head cheerleader Jane Dimit were all junior varsity cheerleaders, and this year, were joined by Cheri Deitemeyer to make up the senior varsity. The four girls were elected by the student body in May of their junior year.

Constant summer practice, including attendance at a cheerleaders' clinic in Oklahoma, resulted in their polished performances throughout the year.

In addition to their cheering, the girls led rallies, worked with the Cubs on pot-luck suppers and posters, and this year introduced the wearing of purple-and-gold pep hats.

For the second year, the junior varsity cheerleaders assisted the varsity cheerleaders and led the cheers for the B and C squad games.

Head cheerleader Barbee Baldwin and Jill Coppom, Sue Preston, and Barbi Mack were elected by the student body in May of their sophomore year.

Like the senior varsity, they too practiced during the summer and, along with their spirited and able cheerleading, took an active part in all pep activities throughout the year.

Janet -
Hi to a sweet girl! Love
you so much!
The mother of the child is very tender - love is sweet - love is good - love is love!

Janet -
So a real great soph star? Stay you're some sweet self-OK?
Just for me. Best of luck
Always - Paul

Hi Janet,
I'm glad somebody still has some empty space! See &
can't say a thing!
Be horrible!
Mary

Janet -
Hi there! ☆
Run, Tip, Run!
Paul (65)

P.S. Look for a deep inner meaning!

To the great Angie!
Keep it up! Love ya,
Pat ya,

Janet,
As a real sweetheart. Honey, I must confess I've been in love with ever since the Sophomore Play.
Really,
Dianne

Dear Janet,
Best of wishes and good luck to a wonderful leading lady in a
not so hot play!
Remember our first
and last double date!
Love always,
Eden

Janet,
My dear friend
& gazelle (ga' zul).
Such fun & shared heartbreak - sniff. Have a great summer - you will 'cause I'll see you lots!

Janet,
The play sure was fun.
Loved working with you.
Have a nice summer.

Love ya,
Lue

Janet,
I'll be on - the first morning articles in Perspective - about it. I believe you got your down with it except the good will. Love ya,
Linda

Janet,
To one of those
actress mathematician
types - not to mention
English! - Good Luck,
Leslie

Dear Janet,
It's been wonderful knowing you!! How did we ever make it through Geometry (and English)?
(or did we?)
See ya,
Janet, oh well...

You look absolutely intoxicated!!

Ken Harding

Janet I'm so glad
I met you this year. Good luck
for next year
Holly

I hope you can read this. It's been fun or entertaining in French class.
You're doing well in school.
Keep having fun. laugh it up!
have it up!
Wayne

Hi!
Remember the problems on class
day '84. & remember
me! Puthie

Janet Perry:
Our English
class was loads of fun! Good luck next year
and also future
actress!
